That Stubborn Cough

Muco-Solvent cures all ailments that are either the cause or result of inflammation or irritation of the mucous membrane passages. It is unequalled in the treatment of Diphtheria, Scarlet Fever, Quinzy, Whooping Cough, Croup and all allied troubles. It is a very valuable household adjunct, being a most reliable preventive of serious developments, when used to check the many apparently unimportant symptoms that so often lead to very dangerous stages. Muco-Solvent is for sale at all first class drug stores and is a most dependable specific for those troubles for which it is indicated. For sale by Dan Wilcox.

WHITE HOUSE GIVES SANCTION TO AN OKLAHOMA PIPE LINE FRANCHISE.

AN "INDEPENDANT" WAS SHUT OUT

Department of Interior Tries to Explain Affair as a "Square Deal"—Statement Given Out Last Night.

Washington, Oct. 9.—The charge published here yesterday that Secretary of the Interior Garfield, with the sanction of the President, last July granted permission to the Prairie Oil and Gas Company, a subsidiary concern of the Standard Oil, to enlarge its pipes in Oklahoma, while declining at the same time to allow the Wichita Natural Gas Company, an independent concern to construct lines within the state, brought a statement of justification from the Interior Department last night.

The statement was made by acting Secretary Frank Pierce, and followed several long conferences at the White House. It attempts to justify the action of the department by setting forth that the application of the Prairie Company was for an enlargement of the facilities of a pipe line already in operation, while the application of the Wichita Company was for an entirely new line.

The statement says: "The records of the department show that the application of the Wichita Company was for an absolute new pipe line and was refused, as all other new applications from any person or company whatsoever would be refused under similar circumstances, because the company would not comply with the regulations of the department."

The inconsistency of this position appears in the fact that the Prairie Oil and Gas Company has never complied with the regulations of the department in all particulars. This is admitted by the Government officials.

The company declines to concede that it is a common carrier—which is required by the regulations—claiming that it carries only its own oil through its own pipe lines.

In the President's second letter to William J. Bryan, given out September 27, Mr. Roosevelt said:

"No preference or privilege was granted to any company (the Prairie Oil and Gas for instance), that was not granted to all others."

This reassertion of the "square deal" may mean one or two or three things.

The official records of the Department of the Interior show, first, that a permit for an interstate pipe line was granted to a subsidiary company of the Standard Oil in 1904. This was done by the President in his campaign year, against the stalwart resistance of his Secretary of the Interior, Mr. Hitchcock. The records also prove that the same company was given another permit by Secretary Garfield, although it refused to conform to the regulation, imposing the obligation of a common carrier.

Still other records show that the precisely similar application of the Wichita Natural Gas Company, an independent concern, was rejected by the Interior Department.

It is disclosed in the Interior Department records that the Prairie Oil and Gas Company received a permit in July, 1908, which, according to the record, was "in the nature of an easement for the construction, operation and maintenance of a pipe line" from a point on the Oklahoma-Kansas boundary line into the shallow sands of Oklahoma, a distance of twenty-six miles.

The record shows that this permit was granted "under conditions attached to the application, made by the Prairie Oil and Gas Company, through its vice-president, J. E. O'Neill, in its letter to the Secretary of the Interior, dated April 13, 1908." The conditions imposed by Mr. O'Neill were that his company should not be required to conform to the common-carrier regulation.

In giving his approval of the permit Secretary Garfield wrote to Mr. O'Neill:

"This approval will be made with the distinct understanding that it is not a precedent concerning any other application for right of way you may see fit to make, and also that it shall be entirely subject to the conditions of the suggested regulations, which you attached to your application."

The special regulations which the Prairie Oil and Gas Company attached to its application for the permit filed by Vice-President O'Neill were drawn in the Interior Department after a conference between Secretary Garfield and Mr. O'Neill. The "regulations" were such only in name, not in fact.

They applied only to the Prairie Oil and Gas Company, and although Mr. O'Neill says in his letter of April 13, forwarding his informal application for the permit, that he understands the Secretary "considers making" them "effective in the near future," the fact is they have never been promulgated, and have no legal force as regulations. No has any other pipe-line company or individual been granted a permit under similar "regulations." They amount simply to a contract between the Government and the Prairie Oil and Gas Company, effective only as to these parties.

On May 7, less than a month after Secretary Garfield had entered into the special agreement with the Prairie Oil and Gas Company, by which the regulations of Secretary Hitchcock were set aside, Acting Secretary Jesse Wilson denied the application of Orin J. Bleakly for a pipe-line permit because he was suspected of trying to secure by a subterfuge a permit for the Wichita Natural Gas Company. In denying his application Acting Secretary Wilson reversed a decision of the Indian Commissioner, who had approved it, "subject to departmental regulations of December 21, 1906."

WADDELL, OF ST. LOUIS BROWNS WAS IN THE BOX AT FAYETTE YESTERDAY.

Followed by Small Boys Over Town, and Was a Much Bigger Person Than Either "Bill" Taft or "Bill" Bryan.

Fayette, Mo., Oct. 9.—Local fandom was thrown into a state of great excitement yesterday by the sudden appearance of George Edward Waddell, the famous southpaw twirler for the St. Louis Browns.

Rube accompanied Charles G. Spencer, of St. Louis, the champion Clay pigeon shot, who yesterday gave an exhibition shoot, in which "El Ruberino" also participated. The Rube attracted much attention. Scores of small boys followed him everywhere he went, and local baseball fans vied with each other to do him honor.

Waddell consented to pitch for the local baseball team in a game which had been arranged with the Moberly club.

Rube's appearance in the box brought out the largest crowd that has ever been seen at a baseball game here. The game was played on the gridiron of Central college, and when Rube made his appearance on the diamond, wearing a Central college uniform, he received an ovation from the collegians.

Rube, perhaps more than anybody else enjoyed the game, for he struck out the opposing players at will. He was in great form and the opposing players almost broke their backs in their efforts to connecting with the "Leaping Louie," "Miss Hazy," and a wide variety of curves and slants.

Once when an opposing player threw his bat half way across the diamond in an effort to connect with a floater, Rube doubled over with laughter, and the umpire called time while El Ruberino was composing himself.

In seven innings neither a hit nor a run was made, the game being called on account of darkness at the end of the seventh, resulting in a score of eight to nothing in favor of the Rube.

When asked as to his opinion of the result of the world's series between Chicago and Detroit, Rube said:

"Take Chicago; take Chicago, every time; it's a safe bet"

THESE ARE FOR MR. BRYAN

TRAVELING MEN IN SOLID FORMATION FOR THE PEERLESS LEADER.

PREACHING DEMOCRATIC GOSPEL

William Hoge, of New York, Vice Chairman of the Traveling Men's Bureau, is Enthusiastic Over the Outlook.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—William Hoge, of New York, vice chairman of the traveling men's bureau of the national democratic committee, is in Chicago this week. He is enthusiastic over the work which the traveling men are doing for Mr. Bryan. One of Mr. Hoge's purposes in Chicago is to arrange for noon day Bryan meetings here.

Mr. Hoge has an organization of more than 1,000 traveling men, who over their signatures have pledged themselves to spread the gospel of Bryan democracy wherever they go. These men make it a point to discuss politics on trains, in hotel lobbies, in newspapers and with everyone they meet.

Discussing the campaign from the traveling men's standpoint, Mr. Hoge said:

"If Mr. Taft would study the commercial traveler of this country he would learn something to make him nervous. If the democratic national committee should spend $100,000 hiring paid agents to travel around arousing public sentiment against Taft and the trusts, these agents could not do half the work that the traveling men are doing."

"First of all and hardest of all, commercial travelers felt the effects of the trusts. I think it is only fair to say that 40,000 of them have lost their jobs. Other thousands have seen their earnings drop off, and the entire class have been menaced."

"At this very minute there are 20,000 commercial travelers, the brightest and smartest men between the Atlantic and the Pacific, scattered around in villages and in cities talking against those trusts and the Roosevelt-Taft combination. They touch every side of humanity and are convincing talkers."

A KISS CAUSED A DIVORCE

Actress Would Not Osculate Cigarette Smoking Relative.

St. Joseph, Mo., Oct. 9.—Mrs. Caroline Sullivan, wife of Maurice Sullivan, was granted a divorce in the circuit court here yesterday.

The parties to the suit are actors, and Mrs. Sullivan is known professionally as Lynn Darcy.

She recently has been a member of the "Follies of 1907" company, but is now rehearsing a part she will take in Anna Held's company.

She is a St. Joseph girl and was in court to substantiate the allegation of desertion made in her petition. Sullivan is the leading man in "The Man From Now" company.

Mrs. Sullivan testified that her husband left her because she refused to kiss his mother whom he brought to their flat in New York city last spring. The reason she gives for refusing this show of affection was that her mother-in-law was a cigarette smoker.

HAVE A BIG RACE IN SKY

WILL CONTEST FOR THE JAMES GORDON BENNETT CUP ON SABBATH.

AMBITIOUS AERONAUTS ARE READY

Saturday's Racing to Include Both a Race to a Fixed Point and a Sure-Enough Contest for Endurance.

Berlin, Oct. 9.—The "grand prix" of the skies, the Gordon Bennett cup, will be decided on Sunday, and already the ambitious aeronauts of all nations are preparing their mighty gas bags for the great struggle for supremacy. The big race will be preceded tomorrow by a "free-for-all" contest, open to any number of balloons of any size for prizes aggregating $750, donated by the city government of Berlin.

The commission of the German Aeronautic association has completed all plans for tomorrow's contest and the great international race to follow, and there is every indication that this year's Coup Internationale des Aeronauties will be the greatest tournament of the air in the world's history.

Arrangements have been made to care for a quarter of a million people who will probably witness the start of the Bennett cup race. Thousands of the best trained troops of Germany will surround the great gas bags and prevent any public interference at the start.

Major Gross has been appointed president of the board of umpires, and Herr Clouth and Herr Reindlinger, of the board of experts, will pass upon the material used by the competitors. Each pilot has been provided with dispatch forms which he must fill up as far as possible and every half hour drop when above cities, villages or other convenient spots.

Tomorrow's racing will include both a race to a fixed point and an endurance contest. For the former balloons of all dimensions have been entered, from the smallest to the largest, but the entries in the endurance contest are confined to gas bags of from 505 to 2,200 cubic capacity.

In the race for the Gordon Bennett cup, starting Sunday, there will be twenty-three contestants, representing America, Germany, England, France, Spain, Belgium, Switzerland and Italy. Only America, England, Germany and France were represented in last year's race at St. Louis, in which nine balloons took part.

The order of starting has been drawn. America drew the honor of starting the race with the America II. The size of all the balloons, excepting No. 5, is the allowed limit of capacity of 2,200 cubic meters. Besides the Bennett cup, now held by Germany, the winner of the race will receive a bronze statue entitled "The Victor," donated by the Nederlandsche Vereniging der Luftvaart, of Dusseldorf, Germany.

Three of the American aeronauts were in last year's race. J. C. McCoy was pilot of the balloon America. Allan R. Hawley piloted the St. Louis and had August Post for his aid. They are a trio of the most skillful aeronauts in the United States.

In the coming race August Post will act as aide to A. Holland Forbes, who will personally pilot his big balloon, the Conqueror. The latter is the only all-American balloon entered in the race, the other two pilots from the United States having had their balloons made in Europe.

Mr. Forbes does not expect that the race will be won on land. He explains how small a chance there is for any of the twenty-three balloons to reach the distance covered from St. Louis last year and not land on water. He points to the map of France and argues that if last year's distance of 872 miles should be equaled in the race from Berlin, about the only basis of hope so far as alighting on land is concerned, will be a north-west wind, carrying the balloons to Russia's frozen steppes.

Mr. Forbes expects to win the race, he said, with the skillful help of Mr. Post. They will be clothed in two suits of underwear, heavy sweaters, their winter suits and overcoats. The Conqueror will carry maps of every country in Europe, duplicate sets of electric lights, twenty-four cans of self-heating soups, six cans of self-heating coffee, two dozen hard-boiled eggs, eighteen pints of water, two pints of brandy, twelve pints of champagne to help keep the pilots awake, for each is to have only four hours' sleep in twenty-four; two pairs of blankets, etc.

The basket will be wrapped in cork so that it can not sink and life-preservers for the pilots will be taken along.

J. C. McCoy and H. H. Arnold will be pilots of the other balloons representing the Aero club of America.

FOUR PERIODS OF AMERICAN HISTORY ARE CLEVERLY DEPICTED.

A BIG ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

Those Who Have Trotted the Globe Declare That the Philadelphia Festivities Surpass Any Ever Before Held.

Philadelphia, Oct. 9.—Four periods of American history were depicted on a scale of magnificence never before witnessed in the great historical pageant today, which was the crowning feature of Philadelphia's 225th anniversary celebration.

Two score spectacular floats and thousands of characters in historical costumes illustrated the history of the Quaker City from the days of the Indian wigwags and the rude huts of the first Swedish and Dutch settlements to the present time.

As the first great historical pageant ever held in the United States, the spectacle had a unique interest for the hundreds of thousands of spectators, and globe-trotters declare that the pageants of England and continental Europe pale in contrast with today's great parade.

Three full centuries were depicted, beginning with the beginning of the seventeenth century with the Indians, the Swedes and the Dutch, who occupied the present site of Philadelphia prior to the arrival of Penn in 1682.

The various historians, artists and men of affairs who had this feature in charge made these reproductions historically correct. Then following in regular sequence were the floats representative of the landing of William Penn, his famous treaty with the Indians, the early life, customs, and manners of the colonists, the beginning of the Revolutionary period, the city during Revolutionary times, together with floats depicting Thomas Jefferson writing the Declaration of Independence, and the "proclaiming of liberty throughout the land and the inhabitants thereof," by the Liberty Bell at the state house in 1776.

In connection with this period were shown details of continental troops, Philadelphia's famous first city troop in the original uniforms, escorting General Washington, Robert Morris, the great financier of that time, who raised the necessary funds for the country to defeat the British, the battle of Germantown and other important features of the city's and country's early history.

Philadelphia and the nation in the war of 1812 were similarly treated, and again it was shown that it was a Philadelphian—Stephen Girard—who financed the movement.

Considerable attention was also devoted to the Mexican war and the rebellion, and in connection with the latter display it was shown that another Philadelphian, like Morris and Girard, performed the herculean task of providing the funds for enabling Lincoln to preserve the Union. That was Jay Cooke, the great financier. Another feature of the Civil war period was the reproduction of details of men of about twenty each, correctly uniformed, representing every one of the Philadelphia regiments which enlisted in the war.

Garment Is Found to Be Too Light to Go Without Stamps.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 9.—When Mrs. Pfeiffer, of Washington, Mo., testified before the federal grand jury yesterday afternoon her testimony brought out that the skirt she had on was wanted by the government as evidence in the case under investigation.

When Mrs. Pfeiffer had finished her testimony she was escorted to another room in the building, took off the garment, opened the door and handed it out to Inspector Bunsen. He wrapped it in a heavy piece of paper and found that the bundle weighed exactly twenty ounces. The inspector was then able to testify that the skirt weighed less than the 4-pound limit on mailable parcels.

Springfield Jury Does Not Convict in Second Riot Case.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 9.—After sixteen hours' deliberation the jury in Raymer had previously been acquitted of murder in connection with the lynching of W. K. Donnigan, an aged negro. This time he was tried for destruction of property.

The evidence was submitted that he was with the mob; that he threw bricks at Lopers restaurant; and the instructions of the court were that if the evidence showed Raymer was with the mob he should be found guilty.

LAWYER SUED FOR DIVORCE

Prominent Chicago Society Woman May Be Implicated.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 9.—North Shore society and high ranks of the Knights of Pythias are threatened with a shock in the divorce suit of Mrs. Laura Emily Hardy against Charles Hardy, 1036 Carmen avenue.

It is charged the divorce papers were manipulated so as to hide the identity of a prominent North Side society woman involved in the case. Hardy himself is known among his friends as Carlos. Hence, when the suit was filed in the name "Charles" even the defendant's identity was not apparent.

Mr. Hardy is one of the most prominent fraternal men in the country. He is counsel for the insurance department of the Knights of Pythias, a former member of the Columbia Yacht club and known as a "good fellow." He has six children, but has not lived with his family for two years. It is said that Mr. Hardy will not oppose a divorce, but has arranged to pay alimony.

Mrs. Hardy belongs to a prominent family of New Orleans. Her maiden name was Emily Gibbons. She claims there is Spanish blood in her veins. The couple was married in Austin, Texas, in September, 1888. Although Hardy's first name is Charles, his wife has been in the habit of calling him Carlos because of her love for the Spanish.

A married man who permits any member of the family to take anything except Foley's Honey and Tar, for coughs, colds and lung trouble, is guilty of neglect. Nothing else is so good for all pulmonary troubles. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates and is in a yellow package. Arlington Pharmacy.

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But one that varies two treatments must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is the Constitutional. The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane apposition remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments. The "Night Cure," as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, enters nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

EARLY LOCAL "HISTORY"

GEORGE R. LINGLE, OF CLINTON, CONTRIBUTES INTERESTING CHAPTER.

GEN. JEFF THOMPSON'S CAPTURE

Mr. Lingle Was at That Time a Resident of Sedalia, and Writes of the Memorable Event as He Remembers It.

Clinton, Mo., Oct. 8.—Editor Democrat-Sentinel: In your recent write-up of Sedalia's historical events it was said that Gen. Jeff Thompson's capture was October 15, 1864. I feel almost confident in saying that it was October 11, and regret that the events of this memorable day should pass almost without mention.

I was then a resident of Sedalia, but do not feel competent to even attempt to supply this page in its history. Gen. Thompson's force was first seen about 1 o'clock in the afternoon and came in on the public road leading north from the cemetery and west of Judge George Hearl's old farm residence.

Emerging into the open, it spread out like a fan, the cavalry and two guns taking positions about Darkeytown.

A fruitless attempt was made to capture a freight train as it went east at highest speed. The main fight—if such it should be designated—was at an improvised fort located as best I now recall, in an open space west of North Washington street and east of the old Catholic church.

Some fourteen or more of Capt. Frank L. Parker's men made a good defense, and it was here that Gen. Thompson's orderly was killed. Just now I have only in mind one of Capt. Parker's men. He is W. B. Calvert, now in the grocery business at either Joplin or Webb City.

Frank A. Ware, who was long a bookkeeper in Salmon & Salmon's bank, in Clinton, but now deceased, was one there. Years ago he furnished me some data and incidents for publication, but these have been mislaid.

Gen. Thompson—so it was said—threatened to burn the town in retaliation for the death of his orderly, but was persuaded from so doing by Mrs. Kate M. Henry and daughters. Mrs. Henry later made Pleasant Hill her home. Six persons were killed during the day, and their bodies exposed to view in the depot building.

Late that afternoon, while standing in front of the Pollard house—now the site of the Citizens' National bank—I witnessed the shooting of a cavalry horse by Col. Slayback, in command of a regiment. The soldier had stolen clothing from Taylor & Co.'s store, and on his refusal to return the same, his horse was shot and fell in the street about opposite the location of Rod Gallie's old grocery store. Truly—Geo. R. Lingle.

Two Good Recipes That Will Provide Substantial Diet.

Cream Crabs in Peppers.—If you live near salt water where crabs are obtainable this is a most inexpensive dish. If you are not in a crab country, substitute any good white fish with a firm texture. Select large green sweet peppers of uniform size, one for each person. Cut off enough of the stems to make the vegetable set firmly but do not make an opening through which the juice can come. Cut off the tops, scrape out the seeds and throw into ice water to soak for an hour. For six peppers make the following mixture: A coffee cupful of crab meat, flaked after the crabs have been boiled. In a porcelain or enameled saucepan melt one tablespoonful of flour. Add slowly one cup of milk, stirring all the while. When this has come to a boil remove the pan from the fire, add a beaten yolk of one egg, a large teaspoon of chopped parsley,
a little lemon juice, salt and paprika.
Add the crab meat, return to the fire and bring to boiling point. Remove immediately, wipe out the pepper cases with a soft cloth and fill with the fish mixture; place in a brick oven and bake ten minutes.

Scrambled Eggs and Mushrooms.— An economical dish for the out-of-town housewife who knows where and how to gather mushrooms. For six people a quarter of a pound of mushrooms will be required. They are light in weight. Skin the tops, scrape the stems and wash in cold water; have ready some melted butter, drop in the mushrooms, whole if they are small, halved if they are large; shake vigorously until they are lightly browned, and then set on the back of the stove while you prepare your eggs. Warm a cup of rich milk in which you melt two tablespoons of butter, salt and pepper to taste. In another bowl beat six eggs, whites and yolks together.
Stir in the mushrooms and the seasoned milk last. Turn the mixture into a porcelain lined or enameled frying pan, rubbed with butter. Cook over a moderate fire until the eggs are set, using a silver fork to keep the cooked portion from sticking to the bottom and sides of the pan. Serve on hot toast garnished with parsley.

THE BIG RACE RUN ON OCTOBER 24

Elimination Contest Will Be Held To-

Be Made Public.

New York, Oct. 9.—It is likely that a vast concourse of motor enthusiasts will gather tomorrow in the grand stand of the new Long Island Motor Parkway to witness the elimination event for the Vanderbilt Cup race.

The latter will be held October 24, two weeks from tomorrow, and the elimination race will decide the contestants for the famous Vanderbilt trophy.

Widespread interest is being manifested in tomorrow's event, as the cars entered are among the best in the world and the drivers the most caring, so that the event is likely to develop many thrilling and hair-raising incidents.

There is also the added attraction of seeing the cars speed for the first time over the eleven miles of the magnificent new motor parkway now completed.

Some of the most prominent men of the country will witness the race, the box holders including W. K. Van-

THE TURK IN WASHINGTON.

Little Known of the Genuine Article in National Capital.

We know so little about the real Turk in this country that it is difficult to understand from any intimate enlightenment events that occur beneath our very noses. Most of the so-called Turks that come here are only Turkish subjects, Greeks, Armenians, Syrians, etc., and not Turks at all. Tourists who take in Constantinople and chaffer in the bazars with deceitful tradesmen come home to tell dramatic stories of the Turk and to denounce his tricks as vain. The truth is that they have not come in contact with the real Turks at all.

The sultan has very seldom sent a real Turk to Washington as his envoy. One reason is that Turks do not care to leave home for domestic and other reasons, and another is that he has wished to reward the son of the dependent of some favorite.
Twenty-five years ago the Ottoman minister at the capital was Mayroyeni Bey, a Greek and the son of the sultan's favorite physician. After some years the latter fell into disfavor and Mayroyeni was recalled. He had found much favor with the fair sex, but had made few friends among his own sex, certainly not many who were important and could be of use to him officially. He was succeeded by a real Turk, Ali Ferrough Bey, a handsome, sympathetic, impulsive young fellow, who promptly ingratiated himself with every one of sporty tendencies and was informed with certain wisdom and an unquestionable energy.
Ali Ferrough was in a fair way of getting his country much liked and very seriously considered when, two or three years later, he was recalled for promotion, and in his place came a serious, silent, unhappy looking gentleman who said nothing to anybody and had a bleak like a bird of prey.
He didn't stay long. Later he was had Mehmed Ali Bey, a son of Izzet Pasha, the sultan's deposed favorite, not a Turk, but a Syrian. He is eliminated and now comes Mundji Bey, apparently a Turk, and like Ali Ferrough of pleasant memory, talka-tive, emotional and essentially light-hearted. At least Washington accepts him as such because of the resemblance. He bids fair to make congenial and helpful acquaintances, and if these indications hold out he may come to be useful.

The fact remains that we know very little of the real Turk. The people is always an agriculturist when he is not a soldier. The gentleman is

She Got One.
A drummer for a New York millinery house was pursuing his avocation in the Adirondack region and trying to effect a sale of his goods in a village store, when a woman who had come in after dry goods turned to him and asked:
"Have you got any of those Merry Widow hats?"
"No, ma'am. Our house don't deal in such fads."
"Very large, aren't they?"
"As big as a door."
"And lots of flowers on them?"
"A regular garden on each hat."
"But I want one, and will you please tell me whom to write to?"
"Of course I will, but I shouldn't think that a woman of your age—"
"Age hasn't a thing to do with it," she sweetly said. "I want a hat big enough to hide these front teeth when I walk out!"

The drummer took a long look at the teeth, saw the necessity of the largest hat that could be procured, and offered to telegraph in the order and hurry it along.

New Occupation for Women.
It would seem that the school board of Bloomfield, N. J., has invented a new occupation for women. The pupils of the public schools are furnished with free text books. Each summer two women go through the eight school buildings of Bloomfield and put every book in order. At the end of the school term the books are sorted by the teachers, grade by grade, and all needing repair are left in great piles on the office floor. The two re-pairers take their paste pot, awl and needle and make them all as good as new again before the summer is over.

Would Mend the Manners.
Mrs. Miriam N. Loomis, at a meeting of the Home Economics conference at Chautauqua, said that girls in some of the leading colleges throw bread and cake at one another at the table and some of the hotels require a fee before they will serve students because of bad manners. She thought the table should be the center of the social life of the school, as it is in the home. Why should it be necessary for young men and women to apologize for college manners?

Conspiracy Suspected.
"They do say that dyspepsia sharpens men's wits," said the old-time friend.
"I wonder," remarked Mr. Cumrox slowly, "whether mother and the girl got that new French kitchen gang the hope of improv'ng my digestion."

SEDALIA TEAM WAS BEATEN

What the Knobnoster Gem Has to Say of the Game.

In a loosely played game Knobnoster defeated the Central Business college team, of Sedalia, Saturday afternoon by a score of 11 to 10, says the Knobnoster Gem.

The Mexican team was supposed to play here, but only one of them showed up, the rest being husky American lads.

Knobnoster didn't have its regular lineup, but easily kept ahead of the visitors. Shepherd pitched for the home team, and English, of Olean, twirled for the visitors.

The game was a little snappy in the fifth, when the college boys took advantage of some careless playing and went up three scores ahead of the Knobs.

The home team immediately took a hunch and batted back into the lead.

daughter for their home at Union-ville, Mo.

race for congress in the First district, will remain in the city for Taft and tained the latter when he was here.

It is estimated that 10,000 government clerks will go to their homes to cast their votes, November 2.

Was Killed by a Binder.

George Foster, living eight miles northeast of Warrensburg, was almost instantly killed by a binder Saturday at 12:30 p. m. says the Knobnoster Gem. He was coming home from Tom Foster's with a binder borrowed to cut cats and started across a field to save time.

He pulled the staples out of a wire fence, laid down the wires, and started across. The horses wouldn't go over and he tried to lead them by the reins. They ran away, however, and Mr. Foster was killed.

For Vague Pains

Backache, Headache

and other pains, all over a woman's body, are often caused by some, not well understood, female disease.

No one can tell just where female trouble will affect you. It acts in a different way on different people. Hence, treating the symptoms gives but little benefit, and the most successful method may be said to be the treatment of the cause—which you may do, by taking Cardui.

What Cardui has done for other women, it ought surely to do for you. Mrs. M. E. Allred, of Hartford, Wash., writes: "Ever since I was 16 years old, I have suffered from female troubles. I had headache, backache and other troubles, every month. Some two years ago, I began to use Cardui, and since then I have had no backache, my other troubles have stopped, I don't need any medicine, and I am well."
